LIBRARY of the DEPARTMENT of MATHEMATICS and PHYSICS

The Library of the Department of Mathematics and Physics owns 10.000 books and 150 journals.

Volumes are catalogued according to the AMERICAN MATHEMATICAL SOCIETY classification (MSC 2010).

In order to find a book, you have to consult the Sebina OPAC at

<http://unina2.on-line.it/SebinaOpac>

You can search by :

- Title
- Author
- Subject
- Class

In order to search a book in this library, you have to select “Ufficio di Biblioteca del Dipartimento di Matematica e Fisica” in the list of the Libraries of this University.

From the catalog, you can see in real time if a book is available or not available in the library.

For some books, you can find a link that refers to the electronic version of all or part of the volume.

From 2011 the volumes of the Lecture Notes in Mathematics series are available only in electronic version.

You can access the volume using one of the PCs of the department.

From the same catalog, you can also consult the Journals...

In some cases, if the electronic version is available, you can find a link that will direct you to the website of the journal...

If the article you need are not available in our Library, you can ask the Librarian who will get the articles for you in other Italian Libraries.

I hope that this brochure has been helpful...

I wish you a pleasant stay and good work/study at the Mathematics and Physics Department ...

Giuliana Rucco
